

BOTANY RAIL DUPLICATION

The Botany Rail Duplication Project is one of a number of Australian Government initiatives to increase the capacity of Sydney's rail freight network. The Proponent, Australian Rail Track Corporation (ARTC) proposes to duplicate the remaining section of single freight track between Mascot and Botany, referred to as the Botany Rail Duplication Project.

An Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) has been prepared, and has been placed on exhibition by the NSW Department of Planning, Industry and Environment (DPIE). The Department is inviting submissions on the EIS until Wednesday 13 November 2019.

ABOUT THE PROJECT

In May 2018 the Australian Government announced a funding commitment to the Botany Rail Duplication Project. The project aims to improve efficiency, flexibility and reliability for freight rail customers, and encourage freight modal shift from road to rail.

The project is considered State significant infrastructure and an EIS has been prepared as part of the planning approval process. The EIS describes the key features of the project and assesses its potential environmental impacts during construction and operation. It also proposes mitigation measures which aim to manage these impacts.
